

About us

The story about Veleco brand begins in 2012, when the company was first founded in Poland. Through its existence, the company has been called many things: reliable, trustworthy and experienced. All of this didn't happen over the course of one night though but was built little by little.

As all brands, Veleco started out as a small business, designing and manufacturing luxury medical vehicles that we are proud of. The passion and love we put into the whole process (designing and manufacturing vehicles suited to our potential clients' needs) resulted in ever-growing popularity and trust among our customer base. By keeping up the high standards of our products and customer service, reaching out to clients from across the world, we've entered our most prominent period of growth.

TOP manufacturer of luxury medical devices

Nowadays, Veleco stands tall among TOP manufacturers of luxury medical devices – mobility scooters and electric-powered wheelchairs as well as mopeds. We distribute high quality products across all of Europe. Veleco distributors include dealers from every corner of Europe, such as Great Britain, Germany, Spain and Italy. Our products improve people's quality of life. These products are aimed at all age groups with mobility issues.

A supervised order process

Thanks to our car fleet we are able to distribute mobility scooters on our own. Logistics background and a full team of specialists; engineers, mechanics, testers and customer support with passion allow us to control and improve every part of selling process – from manufacture and prepare an order, by professional customer service and door-to-door delivery.

Visionary, the one who made things happen

Young and passionate, and an example to the whole team, the founder Jakub Marek made it all possible. At young age he established a path to make a small dream become a big reality. As all natural leaders, he gathered specialists of various fields, who followed his vision, supporting the grand idea of a brighter world. Curious how the future is perceived by Veleco CEO? One filled with environment friendly vehicles, that allow people of all ages and ability for safe travel between places. After all, freedom is the highest value, a priceless thing we all deserve.
